1. I, the prototype am, the principle, the pattern, and yea, that which is of me emerges, and emerges unseen not; seen; seen to be beheld; me being beheld. I love you and I give you me.
2. See how I call to you each day, reader, hearer; my reader, my hearer, my wonderer, my ponderer, my meanderer; circuitously filtering my words to see if my fashion and form can be found in them, can be found in me, can be found in you. Yea, I am my word made flesh; you. You are my word made flesh, for I spoke you into existence. I birthed you. I gave you life, and you came through me; my heart, my love, my body, all.
3. I love you. I give you me and I give you all of me. I give you the pattern, the precepts, the principles, yea, that form truth, that truth are. I am truth and many work in relationship, and many work in relationship with only me; me and my body.
4. I love you the way I intended, the way I inform, the way now I serve. Am I a servant? Am I your server? Do not yet, yea, I come before you everyday serving you my words, serving them, to eat them, to speak them, to share them if you will.
5. Yea, come unto me all you who are weak and heavy laden, and let me give you my strength, let me give you my words, my truth; me; and see how forcefully, see how freely, see how tenderly I come before you, and present you me.
6. I love you and I give you all of me. How many times? How many times will I say I give you me? Many multiples of manifold multiples multiplied. I love you. I love you. I love you.
7. See me in what I have said and continue to reiterate. Preponderance not; precept, pattern, prototype, principle, fashion and form of only me I am, you are. I am you are. You are me. See me in every scripture come and coming forth, yea, was, is, and is to come, mightily, through even you. Yes, you, my faint-hearted; fashion and form of only me, faint-hearted. Faint heart not, and feign not the glory, nor resist that which I offer you, which already is in you this day.
8. I love you and I give you me whole heartedly, whole heartedly; wholly holy. Good day. Good day my friend. Shine on me as I shine on you. My lover's all with each other be; my love flowing between you in mercy and grace; captivity none. Good day.
